The current year represents another challenging year for the entire world and for the global economy. It requires a continuing time for reflection, it demands new approaches, new ideas and deep community efforts. This state of affairs brings the need of suitable economic and social solutions that can drive the global economy towards a sustainable path of development, both on medium and long term.

The Faculty of Economic Sciences within Lucian Blaga University of Sibiu is organising the International Economic Conference of Sibiu (IECS 2021) and is devoting a Student Section that will constitute a platform to encourage debates and exchanges of ideas on current economic issues in a fundamentally uncertain world and society.

We are pleased to invite Romanian and International students, at undergraduate and postgraduate level, to present their ideas and develop specific academic skills such as critical thinking abilities, networking and socialisation, presentational skills and so on.

IECS Students event will take place on

May 26th 2021, ONLINE

No participation fee.
